

COLOR OF EDUCATION

James E. Ford

James E. Ford is an award-winning educator and consultant on issues of equity in education. He is the Executive Director of the Center for Racial Equity in Education (CREED) and the Principal Consultant at Filling the Gap Educational Consultants, LLC.. He also serves as a member of the North Carolina State Board of Education, representing the Southwest Region. James is the 2014-15 North Carolina Teacher of the Year and former high school social studies teacher in Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools. He writes and speaks extensively on the issues of educational equity, systemic racism, and economic mobility.