

COLOR OF EDUCATION

Rani Dasi

Ms. Rani Dasi understands the importance of ensuring that all students have access to resources that allow them to reach their full potential and is dedicated to improving outcomes in public education. As an elected member of the Chapel Hill-Carrboro City Schools Board of Education, she works to ensure that policies and decisions are made in the best interest of the entire school community.

In addition to her duties on the School Board, Ms. Dasi serves as Finance Director at RTI International, an independent, nonprofit research institute dedicated to improving the human condition. In this role she leads the finance organization across the Education, Justice and Health divisions.

Ms. Dasi currently serves as Vice Chair of the board of The Walking Classroom (a national award-winning education non-profit organization which provides students and teachers with an innovative way to get exercise without sacrificing instructional time), on the North Carolina Beginning Teacher of the Year Steering Committee, and on the executive board of the North Carolina Caucus of Black School Board Members. She has also served as co-director of the Northwestern University Triangle area Alumni Admission Council, managing recruiting communications and the process to interview potential students in the Triangle area. She holds an undergraduate degree in Industrial Engineering and Management Science from Northwestern University and an MBA in Finance and Accounting from the University of Chicago.
