Cherrel Miller Dyce

Cherrel Miller Dyce is an Associate Professor and Executive Director of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in the School of Education at Elon University. With twenty years of experience in social justice work, she is a fierce social justice advocate, K-20 researcher, mentor, and social theorist. Dr. Dyce believes in uplifting marginalized communities through education. She emphasizes racial equity, social justice, and critical self-reflection in all research projects. Dr. Dyce is a diversity, equity, and inclusion consultant and provides professional development in the areas of racial equity for public and charter schools, higher education institutions, and private organizations. She has published many journal articles and is the co-author of a book, D.I.V.A. Diaries: The Road to the Ph.D. and Stories of Black women who have endured. Dr. Dyce's faith is central to how she navigates her personal, professional, and academic endeavors. Her mission statement is, "I want my work to resonate in the souls of humanity, cast down inferiorities, mute institutions of power, capulate privilege and discrimination, and eradicate racism."
